

ISLAND CODE OF CONDUCT

RESPECT, PROTECT, ENJOY

By adhering to the island code of conduct you ensure that Lundy's wildlife remains protected for future generations.

- Please do not drop litter. Leave only footprints and dispose of all waste responsibly. Please pick up any litter you see and report pollution events to the warden.
- Keep to obvious paths and watch your step. Ground nesting birds may conceal nests within vegetation while seals pup on beaches. Remain vigilant and report any disturbance events to the warden.
- Never pick/damage wildflowers or fungi. Many species, such as the Lundy Cabbage or Golden Hair Lichen are rare and specially protected.
- Enjoy wildlife responsible distance. Please do not feed the wildlife, livestock or feral animals. If an animal appears agitated or aggressive towards you, please move away.
- The use of metal detectors or purposeful ground disturbance is strictly prohibited.
- Keep Lundy rodent-free. Please check your luggage for stowaways. Take all your waste home, especially perishables.
- Collecting firewood or lighting campfires is strictly prohibited anywhere on the island.
- Abide by the latest climbing and scrambling restrictions in place during the seabird breeding season. Please refer to the Climbing Restriction Guidelines, also enclosed in this book.
- The use of drones is not allowed. As a landowner, the National Trust does not permit unauthorised drone operation on its land and or properties. Permissions for research or commercial filming must be granted by the warden.

Please report any wildlife sightings or acts of misconduct to the warden
